The map displays the bus network of Koblenz, Germany, focusing on lines 2 and 12. The Moselle (Mosel) and Rhine rivers are prominent features. The map is divided into several districts, each labeled in pink: Bubenheim, Metternich, Rauental, Altstadt, Ehrenbreitstein, Moselweiß, Güls, Karthause, Oberwerth, Pfaffendorf, and Pfaffendorfer Höhe. The bus lines are shown as colored lines (pink for line 2, orange for line 12) with stops marked by circles. Some stops are marked with arrows indicating the direction of travel. A legend in the top left corner explains the symbols used: a pink line with a number for the line route, a yellow circle for a transfer stop, a white circle with a black arrow for a directional stop, a pink arrow for the direction of travel on the line, a white circle for a regular stop, and a pink circle with a number for the end stop. The map also shows major roads like the A48 and A1, and various landmarks like the Fort Konstantin and the Christuskirche. The map is dated 12/2025.
